

The image displays 13 identical horizontal writing guides. Each guide is composed of two parallel horizontal lines. The top line is slightly higher than the bottom line. At each end of both lines, there are decorative, symmetrical flourishes that resemble stylized scrolls or brackets, which serve to hold the lines in place and provide a visual cue for the writing area. The guides are arranged vertically, one above the other, with consistent spacing between them.